BEST BET OF DAY

Race # 4

(5) PHOBIA

A pedigree to die for here at PID, this Son of Noble Mission drops way down into the $6,250 level after exiting out of the $16k level. A much tougher race last out, he is going to find this a much softer spot to land in this event. A Winner two back in the Mcl $15k, he closed from off the pace and it looks like today he will get just enough speed in front of him to get the right scenario.

SPOT PLAY OF THE DAY

Race # 2

(1) RESIST THE DEVIL

A five-time Victor here at PID, he looks to be in a great spot here today to make another trip to the Winner's Circle. An authoritative Winner last out by 2 ¾ lengths, he was never in doubt that day, and threw up a very solid number that afternoon. His numbers are superior, especially against this group. It looks as if he will have to run down Henry's World, who is the rabbit in this race. I don't see that being a problem and he looks like a Winner in this event today.
